DEDICATE ALCOVE ON LAFAYETTE DAY

Special Services Planned For Centennial Of First Graduation Exercises

TO LAY CORNER STONE

Plan Exhibit Of Lafayette Relics
Contributed Toward Library
Alcove Fund

As a fitting observance of the one hundredth anniversary of the graduation of those three students who on December 15, 1824, received their degrees from George Washington University, then known as Columbian College, a series of exercises is being planned for December 15, to include the laying of the corner stone of the new Law School Building and an evening program in Corcoran Hall in honor of the Marquis de Lafayette, who was present at that first commencement.

At 4 o'clock on Monday, December 15, a short ceremony will be held at the laying of the corner stone of the new Law School now being constructed on Twentieth Street. One or two speeches will be arranged by prominent speakers.

Monday-evening exercises will be held in the Assembly Room of Corcoran Hall, at which announcements will be made of the contributions to the Lafayette Alcove fund. An exhibit will also be held in the Council Room of Lafayette relics which have been contributed toward the alcove fund. According to an announcement made by President Lewis, several large contributions have already been received, and it is expected that the $6,000 goal set for this fund will be reached by that time. Lafayette relics, containing many valuable pieces, have also been received.

As a feature of the evening program it is hoped that M. Jules Jusserand, the French Ambassador, may be secured to make a Lafayette speech. If the services of Ambassador Jusserand cannot be secured, some other prominent speaker will be found. The ushers for the evening will be dressed in French costumes typical of Lafayette's day. Music will be furnished by the Glee Clubs under the direction of Professor Lapham, and if possible they will be dressed in costumes of that period. A very interesting program has been planned for the evening ceremonies, which start promptly at 8 o'clock.

ALUMNI PLAN DINNER FOR FOOTBALL SQUAD

Students As Well As Alumni Eligible
For Fete In Honor
Of Players

Coach Crum and the members of the football squad will be guests at an informal dinner to be given Friday evening, December 19, at the La Fayette Hotel under the auspices of the executive committee of the Alumni Association. The entire squad of about 35 men will be present.

The dinner will be open not only to all alumni of the University, whether members of the Alumni Association or not, but to the trustees, faculty and students, both men and women.

A short program has been planned, with music and a number of short speeches to be given during the course of the evening. The dinner will start promptly at 7:15, and since the number which can be accommodated will be limited, reservations should be made promptly.

The committee in charge will place tickets on sale at the treasurer's office in Columbian College, the Law and Medical School offices this week, or they may be obtained from members of the executive committee or from Philbrick McCoy, secretary of the Alumni Association, Columbian Building, at $2 per ticket.

TO DEBATE TAX QUESTION

The Columbian Debating Society will hold a debate at the Law School, Friday night, December 12, at 8 o'clock, upon the question, "Resolved, That all income tax returns should be published." Dean Van Vleck, of the Law School, will speak upon the subject, "Argumentation, Persuasion, and Repartee."

TEACHERS TO MEET

The Senior Class of Teachers' College will meet Wednesday evening, December 10, at 7 o'clock in the old chapel room of Lisner Hall. Subjects to come up for discussion include Senior Rings, Senior Ball, Senior Week and Senior Pictures. All Seniors must be present.

CHERRY TREE STAFF TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Editor Plans Many Novel Features
To Make 1925 Annual More Attractive

Plans for the Cherry Tree are swiftly nearing completion, and students may look forward to one of the best annuals in years. The big book will contain many innovations and some surprises, according to Arthur Perry, editor of the 1925 annual.

Perry at present has under consideration plans for a popularity contest to determine the six most popular girls in the University. Each student will be permitted to cast one vote, and the results of the ballot kept strictly secret until the Cherry Tree is published in the spring. A full page will be devoted to the portrait of each of the winners.

The Year Book has been placed upon a subscription basis this year, and activities fee signers will not be given copies as in former years. The business staff will, therefore, encounter the additional problem of disposing of copies at a price, for the first time in recent years.

Miss Louise Strother, whose poster was chosen last year from among many submitted, will serve on the art staff. Arthur Perry announces the appointment of Jeanne Gravatte as sorority editor, and Raymond Crabtree as sport editor. Other appointments will be made in the next few days.

A meeting of all interested in positions on the art staff will be held in Lisner Hall Wednesday, December 10, at 8:30, and students of artistic talent are urged to attend. The editor will meet all applicants and discuss with them plans for the annual from the standpoint of art.

As has been previously announced, Dean Wagner, George Washington's star halfback, who scored 36 points this season and the only two touchdowns in the C. U. game, will receive a special copy of the Cherry Tree, with his name printed in gold on the cover.

The Lettau Studio, 1328 G Street N. W., is now giving sittings for Cherry Tree pictures. Students should take advantage of the reduced rates given those whose pictures are taken before December 15.

LAW SCHOOL FRESH HOLD CLASS SMOKER

In an atmosphere enlivened by merry jests and clever banter, 50 members of the first year class of the George Washington University Law School met at a class smoker at the University Club last Wednesday night to hear Senator Key Pittman, of Nevada, and William B. King, prominent District attorney and a trustee of the University, tell of some of the things that a young lawyer must face.

Prof. Charles S. Collier acted as toastmaster and chairman of the meeting. His "toasts" were answered by Dean Van Vleck, Professor Arnold, Professor Ernest and Professor Moll. Carlyle Maw, president of the first year class, gave a short talk in which he said that the first year men were still new to their task, but that they would give their best to the profession and to the University.

Of special interest were the talks of Senator Pittman and Mr. King. Their words of practical advice and their message of inspiration and encouragement were seized upon by the eager first year men, who enthusiastically declared that the evening had been one of great profit.

After the speech making was concluded the students, professors and guests mingled in an hour of good fellowship from which no one could escape without feeling that he had a host of new friends. Refreshments, and plenty of them, were served.

SENIOR PRESIDENTS PLAN CLASS BALL

Five Committees Appointed To Complete Arrangements For
Dance On Jan. 16

EACH APPOINTS CHAIRMAN

Council Of Senior Class Presidents
Elect Marguerite Daly
Chairman

Seniors in every department of the University will unite in giving a Senior Class Ball on January 16 in the gymnasium, according to plans adopted at a meeting of the Senior Presidents last Tuesday. Committees have been appointed and practically all plans completed for making this the most brilliant social event of the mid-winter season.

August H. Moran, president of the Law School Seniors; Mead L. Hammond, president of the Senior Engineers; Don Johnson, president of the Medical School Seniors, and Mary Bixler, president of Senior Teachers, elected Marguerite Daly, president of the Columbian College Seniors, as chairman of the Council of Senior Presidents at the meeting last Tuesday.

Five committees were also appointed, each college being represented by having a chairmanship of one committee, to complete the details and carry out the plans for the Senior Ball. Harold Young was appointed general chairman of the Ball, with Fred Youngman, of Columbian College, as chairman of the publicity committee; Ernest H. Klein, of Engineering College, as chairman of Tickets; Catherine Lantel, of Teachers' College, as chairman of Decorations; Margaret Nicholson, of Medical School, as chairman of Music, and S. Hazen Bond, of the Law School, as chairman of Programs. Terese V. Haley, a member of the Programs Committee, will have charge of securing patrons and patronesses.

The committees will each have three members appointed from each school. The dance will be formal and will be for Seniors only.

JUNIOR CLASS TO GIVE FIRST INFORMAL DANCE

Three Committees Appointed To Complete Arrangements For
Mixer Dec. 17

Corcoran Hall will be the scene of the first social event of the school year to be given by the Junior Class of Columbian College, according to action taken last Wednesday night at a meeting of the class. Three committees were appointed, and definite arrangements made for an informal dance to be given in the assembly room on that date.

This is the first affair of the Junior Class, but the officers are planning to provide for other events in the future if this dance is successful. Stanley Clark, president of the class, has announced the appointment of three committees, Wyatt Stout, of Finance, with Francis Clements and Ruth Williams acting on the committee. Robert W. Pollock was made chairman of Publicity, with Robert Albright, Mary Chace, Dorothy Daugherty and Lonnelle Davison. Joan Collins was appointed chairman of the Social Committee, with Murray Flack, Arthur Reams, J. S. Rutley, Dorothy Bartley, Caroline West, Melita Chavez and Ruth Gregory.

Tickets have been placed on sale, and may be secured from the class officers and members of the committees at 75 cents.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS TO ADDRESS HISTORIANS

"Universities of the Middle Ages" is the subject chosen by Miss Quincy Smith for a talk to be given at the next meeting of the Charles E. Swisher History Club Tuesday evening, December 16, at 8 o'clock in Building 5, Room 22. Miss Smith, who is principal of Gavvola College, a school for American girls in Italy, is a graduate of the University of Paris.

In addition to the talk by Miss Smith, Ralph G. Gilbert, of Kentucky, will speak on "History We Are Making Now." All students who are interested are invited to attend the meeting.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

Women's debate tryouts will be held Tuesday, December 16, at 8:15 p. m., in Corcoran Hall. Subject: Resolved, That the Constitution be so amended as to give Congress power to overrule by a two-thirds vote the decisions of the Supreme Court which shall declare acts of Congress unconstitutional.

HISTORICAL DRAMA CLUB CALL FOUNDERS MEETING

New Dramatic Group Will Confine Its Activity To Historical Productions

A Founders' meeting will be held Thursday night, December 11, in Corcoran Hall to organize the fourth group of dramatic talent in George Washington University, this new group being intended primarily for students interested in the development of historical drama, beginning with the very earliest time and coming down to the nineteenth century. It will include not only early drama but French drama, Elizabethan tragedy and comedy, and costume plays of all kinds.

A new program recently undertaken by the Dramatic Council, of which Professor Bolwell is chairman, contemplates the formation of four distinct groups which will specialize in separate fields of dramatic presentation. The Historical drama group is the fourth to form, and the meeting which has been called for 7:30 Thursday evening in Room 17 of Corcoran Hall is intended to complete the organization of this group.

Officers will be elected and the matter of a name for the group will be considered. Also the advisability of adopting a constitution will be discussed. Students attending this first meeting will be taken in as charter members of the new dramatic club, those already interested in one or more of the other clubs being eligible for membership.

After the organization of this group is completed the Dramatic Council is contemplating the organization of a Dramatic Association to include the four existing dramatic societies. Those already organized, besides the Historical group, are the G. W. Players, the Mimes, an organization yet unnamed which will specialize in the musical drama, and will include the musical clubs in the University.

FOUR DATES CLOSED FOR WOMEN DEBATERS

Tryouts for the Women's Debate Team will be held in the auditorium in Corcoran Hall, on Tuesday evening, December 16, at 8:15 p. m. The subject on which the entrants will be asked to compete is: "Resolved, That the Constitution be so amended as to give Congress power to overrule by a two-thirds vote the decisions of the Supreme Court which shall declare acts of Congress unconstitutional."

Candidates should be prepared to discuss the question in five-minute speeches, and may fill either the affirmative or negative side. Two teams consisting of three girls each will be selected.

Helen Newman, manager of Girls' Debate, has closed engagements for debates with the University of Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh; Cornell University, at Washington; the University of West Virginia, at Washington, and the College of William and Mary, at Williamsburg, Va.

All information concerning debates and subject can be obtained from Miss Newman in the Law School Library by calling Main 6503.

OFFERS PRIZES FOR BEST ARCHITECT WORK

Arthur B. Heaton, one of the architects for the greater George Washington University, has offered two prizes for the best work during this year in the Department of Architecture.

The first prize consists of books to the value of $75, and the second prize books to the value of $25. Each month the name of the boy doing the best work for the month will be inscribed in the books, and at the end of the year the books will go to the boy who does the best work for the entire year.

Theta Deltas And Phi Sigs Are Tied For First Place In League No. 1

ACACIA LOSES 3 GAMES

Sigma Nu Defeats Last Year's Champs By One Point In Thrilling Contest

The Interfraternity Basketball enters its final week with Kappa Sigma leading the field in League No. 2 with two games won, while Theta Delta Chi and Phi Sigma Kappa are tied for the leadership in League No. 1 with two won and one lost each.

In League No. 1, on Wednesday, December 3, Phi Sigma Kappa came out on top with an 18 to 10 win over Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the first game. Randolph, Phi Sig star forward, had his ankle severely injured in this game and will be out the rest of the tourney. This victory was a well-earned one.

Theta Delta Chi, on the same night, won from Acacia, leading the Masons 32-9. The Acacia boys have improved steadily and have the nucleus for a strong team next year.

On Saturday, December 6, Phi Sigma Kappa defeated Acacia in a hard fought battle which ended 30 to 20. In this game Acacia showed its best form so far and the Phi Sigs won only after a hot fight.

Sigma Nu defeated Theta Delta Chi, last year's pennant winners, by a thrilling last-minute finish, 15-14. With two minutes to play, the score 14-12, McNulty threw a foul, and within a half minute of whistle time Berry shot the deciding basket. However, the Theta Delta came within an ace of scoring again.

On the first night of the battles in League No. 2, Kappa Sigma won from the team of Theta Upsilon Omega, 34-2. The first quarter ended 2-2, but the Theta U. boys had shot their bolt in the first and never had a chance afterwards. This is the first year that they have had a team in the field. Kappa Sigma showed up excellently.

Delta Tau Delta won from Sigma Phi Epsilon in a rough and tumble game, 16-13, on the same night. In this fray, several men were slightly injured and the S. P. E. captain sustained a bad injury to his knee, probably eliminating him from the tourney.

The game scheduled for December 4, between Theta Upsilon Omega and Delta Tau Delta, was postponed by agreement because of a difficulty arising in the use of the gym, which would have necessitated playing until (Continued on Page 3)

CENTRALITES ELECT TEMPORARY OFFICERS

Graduates Plan Permanent Organization
Of Central High Students
At Next Meeting

Recalling interesting incidents about the old high school at Seventh and O streets, Stephen E. Kramer extolled "Central Spirit" at the meeting of Central High School alumni of George Washington University held last Tuesday night in Corcoran Hall for the purpose of forming a Central High School Club in the University. He predicted that such a club would contribute its share to the upbuilding of George Washington.

George W. Hodgkins also gave a short talk in which he stressed the value of a Central High alumni society in the University.

A temporary organization was created with Francis W. Clements as chairman and Robert C. Albright as secretary, to serve until a constitution could be drawn up and more definite plans formulated. A committee on constitution was appointed, consisting of Luis Granados, chairman; Herbert Lutz, Spencer Ward and Eleanor Spielman. A publicity committee was also created with Adelaide Cotter as chairman, William E. Ward, Gladys Harlow and Lotta Karpolalos.

A second meeting of Centralites will be held Tuesday, December 16, at 8 o'clock, in Corcoran Hall, to adopt a constitution, elect permanent officers and effect a permanent organization. All Central graduates are urged to attend this meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., DECEMBER 9, 1924

AFTER ONE CENTURY

From little acorns large oaks grow, so from little beginnings do large universities grow. For 100 years George Washington University has been sending out graduates prepared, from an educational standpoint, to meet their fellow men in all fields of activity.

During that hundred years thousands of students from all walks of life have received all or part of their higher education from George Washington University. Three men received their degrees from that institution a hundred years ago which now has an annual graduating class of 400, upon whose records appear the names of over 5,000 registered students.

The school which over a hundred years ago started this great development with only a few thousand dollars and a few acres of land in a young city now stands in the heart of the Nation's Capital as a living memorial to the greatest name in American history, and its influence has been spread to every land.

But this grand old institution has not yet reached the zenith of its growth. Its expansion is more rapid than ever, and its field of service is being ever increased. One of the lesser phases of development is the Lafayette Alcove, conceived as a permanent memorial to that gallant Frenchman who was the bosom friend of that great American for whom the University has been named, and who was himself always deeply interested in the welfare of the young institution.

And with this memorial comes a permanent fund which will be used to supply needed books in modern language and history for the University Library.

LOYALTY AN ASSET

That poor sportsmanship, even among a very few, should never be allowed to creep in and mar the real accomplishments of our athletic teams was brought out in the talk made by President Lewis at the recent football hop. How true this is we can see only after observing the poor sportsmanship. Nothing can take the life out of a team quicker than a few unfair decisions; nothing can take the pleasure from witnessing a game more than a show of poor sportsmanship; nothing can win disrespect among other schools or from outsiders than a display of poor sportsmanship.

It seems that every school must have them—they are as necessary as chronic pessimists—but the fewer the better.

A student who is willing to assail the worth of his school before his fellow students will do far more harm than the most ardent supporter can by extolling the virtues of the same institution.

Probably the most dangerous enemy any school can have is the student who is willing to avail himself of all the benefits and advantages offered by the institution for education and social development and at the same time give nothing in return, condemn both the policies of the school and the ability and qualifications of its faculty, and spend his time praising the good qualities of another institution.

Yet it seems that nearly every school is blessed with a few such faithful knockers.

LEAGUE REPRESENTATIVE ADDRESSES FREE LANCE

Mrs. Webster Stresses Efforts For Civic And Political Advancement Of Women

Outlining the work of the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Anne Webster, of New Mexico, chairman of the Committee on Social Hygiene of the League, last Thursday at the regular meeting of the Free Lance Club, laid special stress on the activities of some of the committees, particularly the Committee for the Removal of Discriminations Against Women, the Committee on Welfare of Women in Industry, the Committee on Education of Women as Citizens, and the Committee for the Advancement of Peace. Mrs. Webster said the league especially stressed the activity of women as voters.

At Thursday's meeting the club also adopted a program to extend over the next two months which will include an intensive study of "Four Roads to Freedom," as outlined by Bertram Russell in his latest book. These are Anarchism, Syndicalism, Marxian Socialism and Guild Socialism. A special report will be given upon each at every meeting, followed by a general discussion.

Three weeks ago the Free Lance Club joined the League for Industrial Democracy.

EXCHANGES

"Dad's Day" was observed at the University of Florida on Thanksgiving as an added feature of the annual home-coming ceremonies.

Plans for the erection of a $10,000,000 52-story building to house the major portion of the University of Pittsburgh have been announced, and construction will begin next year. The structure will be called the "Cathedral of Learning" and will accommodate 12,000 students. The style of architecture will be Gothic.

A class "open to beginners in dancing, and to those who are anxious to learn the fundamentals of good dancing" has recently been started at the University of Kansas. Meetings, open to the entire University, are held every Friday afternoon. A small sum is charged for the lesson.

Students at the University of California are observing every Friday as Song Day. The purpose of the movement is to familiarize the students with college songs and to create a greater degree of college spirit.

The Minnesota Daily, which is written and published entirely by the students at the University of Minnesota, is the largest college paper published and is the only daily publication which carries nothing but college news. It is a real newspaper, having sixteen pages in each issue, many cuts and cartoons.

The one-year athletic rule may be adopted by William and Mary, in the fall of 1926, according to Coach J. Wilder Tasker.

Prof. George Pierce Baker, Harvard's dramatic workshop wizard, is preparing to accept a position as dramatic instructor at Yale. A gift of $1,000,000 by Edward S. Harkness will supply Professor Baker with a large theater and equipment with which to continue dramatic productions.

SENIORS MUST REGISTER

Will all Seniors who are candidates for graduation at either the February or June convocations make the fact known to the Registrar at the earliest possible moment?

It is urgent that all applications for graduation be filed at once.

Mrs. R. H. Logan, of Salem, Va., president of Gamma Province of Pi Beta Phi fraternity, is the guest of Ellen Littlepage during her visit to the local chapter.

Mrs. Logan was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the University club Monday, a tea in the Pi Phi chapter rooms and a dinner at the Willard.

The Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club is entertaining her Tuesday evening at the College Women's Club at their regular meeting.

Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical Fraternity entertained its pledges and friends last Saturday evening with a very pleasant informal dance at Corcoran Hall. The hall was cleverly decorated with banners and other insignia of the fraternity. Many alumni and members of the faculty were in attendance. Rosey's Orchestra furnished the wicker strains.

Phi Delta Epsilon Medical Fraternity played host last Saturday evening when it held an enjoyable informal dance at the Lee House in honor of the pledges.

This was the first informal dance of the season given and was well attended by members, pledges and members of the Medical School Faculty. Refreshments were served in the course of the evening. Music was furnished by the Original Peacock Orchestra.

Phi Alpha Delta Legal Fraternity entertained at a formal dance at the Powhatan Hotel on Friday evening, December 5.

Miss Sarah Pick left last Tuesday for New York, where she sailed the following day for her future home in the Philippines. Miss Pick is a member of the class of '27 George Washington.

The marriage of Miss Charlotte Starr to Earl Hillman took place at the home of the bride at 5 o'clock on Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Hillman was a former student at G. W. Law School and is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

Miss Nan Darton was hostess at a bridge tea on Tuesday afternoon, December 2.

Dean Anna L. Rose entertained at her first tea of the month in the Women's Club Rooms, Wednesday afternoon. She was assisted in serving by members of the Sigma Kappa Sorority, and many women accepted the invitation which is extended twice a month to all women of the University.

MENORAH SOCIETY TO BE ORGANIZED

A George Washington chapter of the Intercollegiate Menorah Society will be organized Sunday, December 14, by Hebrew students in the University. When organized the club will be devoted to the study and discussion of Jewish literature, music and work of a classical nature. Chapters of the national society are now active in colleges throughout the country.

FORMER J. W. PRESIDENT SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

Dr. Collier Stresses Importance Of Friendly Relations With South America

Dr. William Miller Collier, former president of George Washington University and now United States Ambassador to Chile, delivered an interesting address at the Assembly Friday upon conditions in South America.

Dr. Collier stressed the importance of establishing friendly relations with the countries of South America. "Our relations with Europe must always be close," he said, "because from Europe comes a large element in our population, our institutions, laws and customs; but every year the importance of our relations with South America increases, for there we find peoples working under much the same conditions that we work under, confronting much the same sort of problems, and destined to play an ever-increasing rôle in the great drama of international life. "South America is the continent of the future. The development, however, is not going to be rapid. I am not one of those who advocates that the young men of America should give up the opportunities of this country to go there and settle, but I do hope that there will be an increasing interest in South America, that you will read more about it, study it more thoroughly.

"We should avoid the possibility of the people of South America entertaining a suspicion or jealousy of us. In comparison with them we are a colossus in population, area and resources. A certain fear of the dominance of North America does exist there. In the event of a great war in the future South America can be an absolutely indispensable ally. In working toward peace she can co-operate with us to our mutual advantage."

KAPPA SIGS LEAD IN LEAGUE NO. 2

the wee small hours of the morning had both games scheduled been played. This game will be played immediately.

Kappa Sigma won a 19-9 decision over the Sigma Phi Epsilon delegation, leading all the way and never being seriously threatened. This victory puts Kappa Sigma well in front of League No. 2, with two wins and no reverses, while the other teams have either divided or lost both games.

The teams and fraternities are showing a great deal of interest and enthusiasm in the games, which are better than ever. Some of the teams have well-oiled, smooth-working machines, while others need teamwork badly. As a whole, the games have been good.

The new gymnasium rang with shouts and rival cheers, helped out by the thump of rubber on hardwood and the ball against the board. Martin Gorman has been doing most of the refereeing and has given satisfaction. A standing of the teams follows:

INSTALL LOCAL CHAPTER WITH FORMAL BANQUET

Local Chapter Recently Organized At G. W. Now Affiliated With National Fraternity

Closing a week-end of activity with a formal installation banquet at the New Ebbitt, Epsilon Chapter of Phi Kappa Delta, national fraternity, was established in George Washington University Saturday night, November 29.

A special installation team, composed of the national officers of the fraternity, conducted the formal initiation of Samuel Blinder, Max E. Blinder, Louis Siuh, Joseph Bloom, Nat J. Wilson, Samuel Bogard, George Jolson, Samuel S. Breslow, Henry Treiger, Leon M. Shenberg, as charter members of Epsilon chapter on Saturday afternoon at the chapter rooms.

As the guests of honor at the banquet were the national officers, Dean W. A. Wilbur, of Columbian College, and Prof. Paul Gropp, Instructor in German. Dean Wilbur welcomed the new chapter on behalf of the University and told of the relationship between the Greek letter man and the University. Prof. Gropp, in an interesting talk, lauded the value of Greek letter societies. The officers present also addressed the diners.

MORE CANDIDATES NEEDED FOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Candidates are needed for the girls' basketball team and the girls are all urged to come out. Practice is held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 8:15 in the girls' gym. The team is being coached by Miss Jackson, director of women's athletics.

Alice Haines, manager of the team, will gladly give information to any girls who are interested. George Washington hopes to have a fine team this year and it is up to the girls to come out and support it.

TO ADDRESS CHEMISTS

Dr. Keblor, of the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry, will be the speaker of the evening tomorrow, Wednesday night, at the meeting of the George Washington University Chemical Society. Lantern slides will also be shown. Dr. Keblor will speak on "Drugs." The meeting will be held in Hall 1 of the Medical School, 1335 H Street N. W., at 8 o'clock.

CHEMISTRY INSTRUCTOR AMONG RADIO SPEAKERS

As Speaker In Scientific Series, Marie O'Dea Discusses Chemistry In Medicine

"The goal of the individual scientist is a contribution to humanity," declared Miss Marie O'Dea, instructor in physiological chemistry at the George Washington University Medical School, in a talk on "Chemistry In Medicine," broadcasted by station WCAP last Friday evening. Her talk was one of a series on scientific subjects arranged by Dr. W. E. Tisdale, under the auspices of the National Research Council and Scientific Service, and was broadcasted from the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company's station here in Washington.

"It is the physician who applies the work of all the sciences in the service of humanity," said Miss O'Dea. She told of the origin of chemistry in Egypt, the old land of Keeme, and how the primitive method of all peoples included some knowledge of chemicals and medicines.

Leaving the origin of chemistry, she told of the many wonderful discoveries made by chemists in the last few years. How the harmful potents of cocaine, morphine and other useful drugs had been eliminated by recent chemical discoveries, and how great steps had been made in the cure of leprosy by chemical research into the old cures of India, formed an interesting part of her lecture.

Miss O'Dea also discussed the use of chlorine in the treatment of colds, and the use of a product of quinine in the cure of pneumonia. She predicted that the research chemist, working as he does with his only reward a service rendered to mankind, will ultimately discover a cure for every disease.

MIMES ORGANIZE AS EXPERIMENTAL GROUP

The policy of the Mimes regarding dramatic work for the year was determined upon at their last meeting, Tuesday, December 2, at Lisner Hall, at which time a vote was taken as to the particular type of drama to be developed by the organization.

With four fields of dramatic endeavor to draw from, namely, historical drama, modern drama, musical review or experimental work, the Mimes as a whole were in favor of the experimentalist group, a sort of Little Theatre movement among colleges.

An interesting and varied career is predicted by those in charge for this new form of dramatics, whereby plays will be originated and developed for presentation entirely within this group.

Under the rules of the Mimes, as reorganized, membership is allowed only by merit of the applicant as shown in the various dramatics during the school year.

Do College Students Read Advertisements?

If you do, surely you will read this one

One fine day a Sophomore from a leading University came to see us, suggesting that we advertise in their undergraduate paper, and best of all convinced us, and this is how he did it:

First—He believed in Life Insurance because his uncle (a good business man) had advised him to buy some.

Second—His Father died in the prime of life and good health and left almost no insurance, when he could have carried $50,000.

Third—He also knew that he could buy Insurance NOW at half the annual cost his uncle and Father had paid for theirs.

All this convinced him that even though a student, he should take out as much Life Insurance as his allowance would permit.

What About You?

Every college student looks forward to a career, which will make possible the fulfillment of the most cherished desires—surely Insurance is a necessary part of this program.

Insure, in part at least the value of your educated self, NOW, making up your mind to increase it as business or professional success follows.

The John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company issues all forms of Life Insurance, endowments for home and estate protection, mortgage replacement, education of children, bequest or income for old age; also annuities and permanent disability. The John Hancock is particularly interested in insuring college men and women and obtaining college graduates for the personnel of the field staff.

If you have read this advertisement, you will aid your undergraduate paper by communicating with the

PRESIDENT FIRST ON HOP PROGRAM

Appreciates Success Of Team But Scores Few For Poor Sportsmanship

HOTTEL AND CRUM SPEAK

Captain Received With Enthusiasm As He Thanks School And Team For Support

The members of the George Washington football team and Coach Crum were the guests at an informal dance given by the G. W. letter clubs in the new gymnasium Friday, December 5. In spite of a cold, dismal rain that fell during the early part of the evening a great many of the faculty, alumni and student body were present to honor the men who so well represented George Washington on the gridiron this fall.

Hilory Tolson, president of the Pyramid Honor Society and also the Men's G. W. Club, welcomed the members of the team in a brief message, then proceeded to introduce the speakers of the evening, President Lewis, Coach Crum and Captain Hottel.

President Lewis voiced the appreciation of the University and congratulated its members on the fine showing the team made this season. He scored the few who brought discredit to the University by their poor sportsmanship in the stands during the recent game with Catholic University, and stressed the necessity of 100 percent sportsmanship among the spectators as well as the players.

Coach Crum asked that the team be given due credit for the hard work and sacrifices of its individual members. He also showed the necessity of the spirit recently showed by the school in the support of the team, and said that the continuance of this spirit would insure a good team next year.

Captain Hottel was received with enthusiasm and in a very few words thanked the school on behalf of the team for its support, and asked that next year's team be supported in the same way.

The music was excellent, the dancing floor was in fine condition, and it can be safely said that everyone enjoyed himself. Henry Clay Espey, the manager of the dance, should be congratulated on having staged a very successful football hop.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO AWARD LETTERS

Tabb Succeeds Lyman As Swim Manager—Busick Appointed Baseball Assistant

At a meeting of the Athletic Council, held at the Rochambeau on Tuesday night, Dr. Borden, chairman of the Council, appointed Coach Crum, Mary Jackson, director of women's athletics, and Ernest Stewart, manager of football, as a committee to take care of the awarding of athletic letters in the University.

Coach Crum, in summing up the football season, pointed out the fact that in the University there is no definite system of awarding letters to members of athletic teams, so he recommended that power be given the committee to draw up a new set of eligibility rules and qualifications necessary for the awarding of the G. W.

The resignation of Albert Lyman as manager of swimming was accepted and Samuel Tabb was appointed to succeed him. Adrian Busick was chosen as assistant manager of baseball.

Whether the football team would be given sweaters or gold footballs as rewards for their work this season was put off to be brought up for discussion at a later date.

STUDENTS FORM EPISCOPAL CLUB

Temporary Organization Effectuated At First Meeting—Kayser Welcomes Students

REV. DR. TAYLOR SPEAKS

Committee To Draw Up Constitution For Adoption At Next Meeting

"I am one of those left-handed Episcopalians, called a Methodist," said Professor Kayser in a speech of welcome in behalf of the faculty of George Washington University to a group of Episcopalian students gathered in Corcoran Hall Thursday evening, "but I want to tell you that I am mighty glad to see such an organization as this being started."

The students were gathered in response to a call by Miss Mildred Volandt for the purpose of organizing a club of Episcopalian students who are attending the University.

The Rev. Dr. Ronalds Taylor, from the University of Maryland, was the chief speaker of the evening. As student secretary of the tri-diocesan council of this province, he said he had noticed the absence of representatives from George Washington University at various conferences held in the past.

It was his purpose, Dr. Taylor further declared, to organize an Episcopalian club at the University similar to those already at other large universities in the country. For this purpose, he outlined a minimum program which would be required of the club, and which left to the club an autonomous government. This program included: worship once a week, study of church history, church extension, service and organization meetings.

Professor Kayser, welcoming the forthcoming organization, urged full and faithful support of the program. In his typically humorous fashion, he expressed the belief that on a campus so filled with students trying to appear blasé, a few admittedly conscientious church-goers would strike a new note of individuality, which appears to be the keynote of university life, and be distinctly unique.

G. H. Schmidt, of the University of Maryland; M. Knight, of Johns Hop-

FOUNDERS' MEETING

All students interested in the presentation of drama from the time of Greek tragedy to 1800, including French farce and Elizabethan comedy and tragedy, meet in Corcoran Hall 17 at 7:30 on Thursday, December 11, to form a new dramatic club.

kins University, and Miss Joan Grassley, of Goucher College, each told of the Episcopal organizations in their colleges and spoke of the work and service they were accomplishing.

Philip Dimon, who presided, appointed a temporary committee to draw up a tentative constitution for consideration at the next meeting, December 18.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

G. W. MUSICAL COMEDY TO START REHEARSALS

Actual rehearsals will be started for the musical comedy Friday, December 12. The work heretofore has consisted chiefly in experimenting with prospective scenes in accordance with the type of talent available. The plot has been worked out by Alberique Pompa, and the book is ready for the assigning of parts. Some of the music has also been written.

Students with constructive ideas and talent are urged to come out for the new activity. There is still a place for those who sing, dance, or can lend "atmosphere." See Mr. Pompa, Eddie Everett, or just be present at the next meeting December 12 in Corcoran Hall.

ARCHITECTURAL EXHIBIT

An exhibition of architectural drawings will be held on the first floor of the Architectural Building from Thursday, December 11, to Saturday, December 13, inclusive.
